You will never reach a point
where your system is done.
At some point
you need to expose
your system.